Strege Says Stortini Should Apologize

Tacoma Deputy Mayor Tim Strege is calling on Joe Stortini to "apologize to the voters of Pierce County for deliberately misinforming the public concerning our respective records on the Home Rule Charter."

Tim Strege and Joe Stortini are candidates for the office of Pierce County Executive.

Strege said, "If you look at my campaign materials, you will see an agenda for Pierce County's future. But, my opponent has now begun to wage a personal campaign against me by distorting and falsifying my record.

The first example of this is his most recent brochure where he cites me by name. His claim is that I worked against the badly needed reform of Pierce County government. Here are the facts:

. Mr. Stortini openly opposed the reform charter and used every available resource to defeat it. I supported the charter and actively fought for its passage.

Mr. Stortini's brochure claims he brought a personnel system to county government and did away with patronage. The facts indicate otherwise. In December, 1980, three years after the Personnel Department was established, operating with over a $100,000 annual budget, the department didn't have files on most of the county's 1200 employees. In fact, they had personnel files only on employees in the Planning Department, the Community Action Agency and their own five person office. That's hardly my idea of a 'centralized personnel department,' stated Strege.

When confronted with this total lack of organization Joe Stortini said in 1980, "I would think that if we were to have a functioning personnel system, it would have to have the records of all employees. It's a new department and it does take time.'

According to Strege, "The centralization of personnel files should have taken only a few months not more than 3 years. if there was ever a defender of Pierce County governments old and unsuccessful ways it is Mr. Stortini -- who was chairing the old county commission at the time -- and a defeat for county reform."

Strege went on to say, " I call on Mr. Stortini to discuss the future of Pierce County in a way that will truly be beneficial to our citizens There is no room for distortions and misrepresentations in this county executive race. Pierce County's future is too important for that."

"New Horizon"

Samuel R. Pierce, Jr., Secretary of Housing and Urban Development, announced that 15 communitybased organizations will share $825,000 to implement a comprehensive approach to expanding equal housing opportunities.

"The New Horizons Housing Opportunity program is a new initiative on the part of the Department," Secretary Pierce said. "It will take advantage of existing public/private partnership and help create new ones, to expand our efforts to promote the rental and sale of housing on a non-discriminatory basis.

. "Through this demonstration program, barriers to equal housing opportunities will be identified, and strategies will be developed and implemented to help put an end to discrimination in housing," the HUD Secretary added.

. Under the New Horizons program, the state or local government will assess institutional problems to providing equal housing opportunities in the area.

Except Alaska Income Up ...

Statistics reported Sunday by the Commerce Department indicated that personal income rose 2.4 percent from January through March, except one ... Alaska.

Alaska - which generally leads the United States in income per person, had a 6.1 percent decline due to a slowdown in state payments from oil revenues.

However, Michigan and Delaware made the biggest income gains, due to the increase in manufacturing.

Autoworkers are now negotiating with General Motors Corp., and Ford Motor Co. GM and Ford both reported record second-quarter profits - $1.609 billion at GM, and $909 million at Ford. United Autoworkers said they wanted their "due share."

Mrs. G. M. Edwards In Concert

Mrs. Girtha M. Edwards is getting ready for her debut concert, Sunday, August 5, 1984. PEOPLE - YOU ARE REALLY IN FOR A TREAT!! Ms. Edwards is really an annointed and gifted individual with an extreme amount of God-given talent.

Ms. Edwards is quoted in saying "I'm really excited and was very flattered that the Saints of Edwards Temple thought so much of me by encouraging me, in my endeavors." When asked how she felt overall, she smiles that beautiful smile and very shyly says, "I'm really getting scared and apprehensive."

She goes on further to say, that she never thought of herself as being professional, but we at Edward's Temple, Church of God In Christ, enjoy her tremendously. There are always requests for her to sing, when she visits other local churches, as well as when Edward's Temple has visitors, she warmly welcome them and singsa request when asked.

It is indeed a pleasure to endorse Ms. Edwards, and Tacoma Facts wish you the best of life, WE LOVE YOU - Sis Edwards!!

HAVE YOU BELIEVE OUR REPORT?
SERIES #45
ISAIAH 53: 1&2

Who hath believed our report? and to whom is the arm of the Lord revealed?

For he shall grow up before him as a root out of dry ground.

He hath no form nor comiliness: and when we shall see him, there is no beauty that we should desire him.

WORDS OF WISDOM
JOB 42

Then Job answered the Lord, and said, I know that thou canst do every thing, and that no thought can be withholden from thee. Who is he that hideth counsel without knowledge? therefore have I uttered that I understood not; things too wonderful for me, which I knew not. Hear, I beseech thee, and I will speak: I will demand of thee, and declare thou unto me. I have heard of thee by the hearing of the ear: but now mine eye seeth thee. Wherefore I abhor myself, and repent in dust and ashes. And it was so that after the Lord had spoken these words unto Job, the Lord said to Eliphaz the Temanite, My wrath is kindled against thee, and against thy two friends: for ye have not spoken of me the thing that is right, as my servant job hath. Therefore take unto you now seven bullocks and seven rams, and go to my servant Job, and offer up for yourselves a burnt offering; and my servant Job shall pray for you: for him will I accept: lest I deal with you after your folly, in that ye have not spoken of me the thing which is right, like my servant Job. So Eliphaz the Temanite and Bildad the Shuhite and Zophar the Naamathite went, and did according as the Lord commanded them: the Lord also accepted Job. And the Lord turned the captivity of Job, when he prayed for his friends: also the Lord gave Job twice as much as he had before. Then came there unto him all his brethren, and all his sisters, and all they that had been of his acquaintance before, and did eat bread with him in his house: and they bemoaned him, and comforted him over all the evil that the Lord had brought upon him: every man also gave him a piece of money, and every one an earring of gold. So the Lord blessed the latter end of Job more than his beginning: for he had fourteen thousand sheep, and six thousand camels, and a thousand yoke of oxen, and a thousand she asses. He had also seven sons and three daughters. And he called the name of the first, Jemima; and the name of the second, Kezia; and the name of the third, Keren-happuch.

Using Our Ears

Perhaps when you've been out with your dog, you've noticed him raise or point his ears to catch some sound. This is called "pricking" his ears. Although the more important parts of the ear are inside the head where they can't be seen, the outer ear, in both animals and people, catches the waves of sound. Unlike us, however, animals can generally move their outer ears in the direction of the sound. Perhaps you can "wiggle" your ears some, but on the whole they stay put just the way they are.

Yet even though we can't move our visible outer ears, we can pay more attention than animals and thus make better use of our inner ones! Here is a verse to remember when you sit in church or in a Sunday School class: "So then faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God." Romans 10:17 We must use our ears to listen to God's words, or we will miss out on what He has to say to us. That is tragic, because God's Word also says that:"

"But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that comes to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him." Hebrews 11:6.

Use your ears to understand and receive God's Word. Then you will get the understanding and knowledge to put your faith in Him and in what He can do for you.

Fall Accessories

Fall accessories are rich and sportive, with an emphasis on fine materials and neat, structured shapes. Traditional "suit" handbags and oversized clutches get racy when detailed with quilting or fresh color. Lush plaid scarves, curved belts, exotically detailed gloves and small, senible hats are the best highlights of the season. Rhinestone jewelry for day adds a touch of flash. The two tone look, especially black teamed with strong colors such as red and hot pink, emerges in all categories.

The direction for fall is informal but elegant.

Once simply punctuation, accessories are now a statement unto themselves. That's why we look for the most dynamic the most couldn't-be-without handbags.

Know the importance of an all-important accessory.

Cameo Coutures, Inc., is one of the largest direct-to-the-consumer distributors of lingerie, women's foundation garments and cosmetics in the nation and the phenomenal growth pattern of Cameo Images, one of its nationwide sales regions, has heads turning toward the Northwest.

Just 11 months since its birth, Cameo Images, the Klopfenstein Region, reached a gross sales volume of $363,816 with fiscal year projections (as of August 31) topping the half-million mark.

Joyce began her career with Cameo a short Three-and-a-half years ago as a couturiere and within two months reached the $2500 sustain sales volume necessary to qualify her for a director's position with the Company.

By July 1983, after helping 11 others enter the business as couturieres, she qualified for Cameo's top management position with two months of sustained monthly sales over $12,000.

Now Cameo Images consistently ranks #1 in thenation for the sponsorship of new couturieres (there are currently 287 in the Klopfentein Region) and is fast approaching the top spot in monthly sales volume In June of this year, the Region tallied $45,976 in retail sales.

At home showings, women have a chance to see Cameo fashions modeled by other women -- real people, like themselves, says Joyce.

Tony Brown's Comments

A Democratic Party Lynching

Jesse Jackson told his followers that he would send a "signal" about the "degree of support" they should give to Walter Mondale's campaign this year.

It depended, he said, on the degree of "fairness" he received at the convention. Jackson made clear that he wanted to be recognized as a premiere member of the Democratic Party.

When Minister Louis Farrakhan became anathema to the Democratic Party's Jewish interest, Jackson dumped Farrakhan, calling his remarks "unconscionable and reprehensible." By doing so, Jackson guaranteed himself a prime time television appearance at the convention.

But before the convention's Jesse Jackson night festivities, White women had successfully intimidated Mondale and a White woman won the affirmative action circus-search as his running mate. White southerners had been paid off with the rubber-match appointments of politically tainted Bert Lance. Blacks, the Democratic Party's most dependable voting machine, were ignored.

When the Democratic Party defeated three of four of his platform planks--called "litmus tests" by Jackson--he called on his delegates to stay in the party, and not, as he had hinted at previously, defect from vigorous support of Walter Mondale

Jackson's delegates, many of whom naively believed that he had a chance at the nomination, watched Mondale's forces reject Jackson's proposals, plank by plank: "No first use" of nuclear weapons lost first by more than two to one and a "substantial" reduction in military spending bombed. On another Jackson "litmus" tests, Mondale's people deleted all references to racial quotas from Jackson's affirmative action plank; then, let it be known that Mondale would not support even the watered-down version.

Although Jackson continually threatened that "Blacks could not be taken for granted," it was obvious to all that the party leaders and the White majority knew that by giving prominence to the Black presidential aspirant they had cut the head off the body of a potential Black revolt.

Jackson's delegates, as a result of this divide-and-conquer strategy and focusing on the messianic delivery in Jackson's oratory before the nation, faced the prospect of returning home without so much as a crumb. And whenever one had the consciousness to see through the scam, the rejoiner would come: "We've (Jesse's) already won!"

But one Jackson delegate from Pennsylvania, State Rep. David Richardson thought out loud: "We have to have something to take back to our people to save face." The tension surrounding this dilemma was finally redirected toward other Blacks. And by pure coincidence, the scapegoat became Atlanta's Mayor Andrew Young.

When Young took the podium to debate Jackson' controversial proposal for "complete elimination of the runoff primary," his legitimate objections were drowned out by Jackson delegates turned rabble, jeering and shouting "Uncle Tom," "Shame on you" and "you forgot where you came from."

But it was obvious that they were the ones who failed to know where Andy Young came from. He was Martin Luther King's major lieutenant while Jackson was a latecomer to King's entourage and a peripheral player in King's affairs. Hosea Williams, King's aide and now a congressional candidate in Atlanta, reminded the Jackson people: "Andy Young paid his dues."

Coretta King was brought near tears by boos from the arrogant mob at the party's Black caucus meeting. One Jackson delegate from Louisiana said that Young favored discrimination because he disagreed with Jackson.

Such illogical and immature behaviour, in comparison with Young's confident manner, made the frustration of Jackson's followers even more obvious.

Phyllis Carr from Indianapolis explained: "How are you going to go back and work to get out the vote when you didn't get anything."

Jesse Jackson told his delegates point blank that they had been had: "I know the reason so many of you are in a foul mood. it doesn't have anything to do with what Andy did or Mrs. King did... You're all mad

Hip & Leg Pain

Your hip and legs play such an important part in your life that life becomes miserable when pain strikes.

Hip and leg problems can occur in many painful ways. The miseries of such conditions as lumbago, rheumatism, neuritis, and sciatica are infamous indeed.

Lumbago and rheumatism both have their effect in the muscles. The hips and lower back (part of the hips) are particularly susceptible to these ailments. Irritation to the nerves which carry vital nerve energy to the hips and legs is the main cause of neuritis. Sciatica is a condition affecting the sciatic nerve, the largest nerve in the body which controls movements as well as the sensory functions of the hips and legs. Sciatica is an excruciating painful condition.

The fast pace and long working hours even mental exhaustion can result in spinal stress which may irritate nerves. This can produce an almost unbearable pain in the hips, thighs and lower legs. And severe irritation due to misaligned vertebrae and discs may even cause paralysis.

No wonder thousands of people take tons of dangerous pain killing drugs each year.

The Doctor of Chiropractic is concerned with the effects of spinal misalignments on nerves that carry health giving energy to every cell of the body. If vertebrae and and the disc betweens them are subluxated (misaligned causing nerve interferance) they can pinch and irritate the nerves that branch out from the spinal structures; then some part of the body will be in trouble.

Delays may make hip and leg pain become worse. A Chiropractic examination will determine if you have a problem that can be helped with chiropractic care. Maybe your problem has been overlooked for weeks or months. Natural chiropractic methods do not use drugs or surgery but helps eliminate the CAUSES and allow the body to heal.

Yours for better health, Dr. Rody

Fall Fashions At Nordstrom

Fall 1984 is a season of contrasts and greater freedom of expression in the clothes Northwest women will wear, according to fashion experts at Nordstrom.

Look for a longer, leaner silhouette, with new emphasis on the waist and hips. "Borrowed from the boys" fashions and accessories are tempered with a touch of femininity. Coats find new proportions. Knits create newsy shapes.

PSALMS 12

Help, Lord; for the godly man ceaseth; for the faithful fail from among the children of men.
They speak vanity every one with his neighbour: with flattering lips and with a double heart do they speak.
The Lord shall cut off all flattering lips, and the tongue that speaketh proud things: Who have said, With our tongue will we prevail; our lips are our own: who is lord over us?
For the oppression of the poor, for the sighing of the needy, now will I arise, saith the Lord: I will set him in safety from him that puffeth at him. The words of the Lord are pure words: as silver tried in a furnace of earth, purified seven times. Thou shalt keep them, O Lord, thou shalt preserve them from this generation for ever. The wicked walk on every side, when the vilest men are exalted.

We welcome news of your church and civic events.

New Coach At Green River CC

Jerry Russell has his job cut out for him at Green River Community College but he is absolutely convinced he can meet the challenge. He has a plan.

Russell, the head of the business education department at Franklin Pierce High School and former head track coach there, is the new head cross country and track coach at Green River.

Russell feels one of the strengths of the college desire to challenge the leaders in the community college track ranks is Troy Field in the Auburn, the new Auburn High School facility considered the best in the state by many track experts including Russell. Green River teams will work out on the Auburn track and host home meets there. The college hosted the 1983 state community college track meet there.

Russell is particularly interested in contacting any students--men or women--who would like to try out for the Green River team that may still be making their minds up about college They may call him at his home in Puyallup, 848-3822, to talk about the possibilities of competing for Green River, he said.

Meanwhile, the college is going to be looking or an assistant coach in both cross country and track.

because you came out here and the women got the vice president and the South got Bert Lance...and (Democratic National Committee Chairman Charles T.) Manatt got the DNC and you ain't got nothing."

Of course, Jackson couldn't say the same about himself. In return for maintaining Black support for Mondale's candidacy, a huge sum for voter registration was placed under his control. But blacks generally remain invisible as party policy makers, Mondale senior advisors and as party elected officials--not one Black congressperson in the entire Deep South.

Jackson's oratory and aggressive remarks before the Black caucus about alleviating these racist patterns was described by Mondale aides as a symbolic gesture to quiet the dissent. Furthermore, Jackson, the new insider in party politics, never made an issue of the party's rejection of his agenda.

However, he sensed a militant dissatisfaction and he promised a tense and emotional group a plan that would increase their political power before the convention ended. They left as outsiders, just as they had arrived. And Black concerns, as interpreted by Jackson got no "respect."

All of this simply proves that the Democratic Party is equally as racist as the Republican Party. Historically, the Democratic Party was the party that terrorized and lynched Blacks to keep them away from the ballot box.

this year's mass lynching of loyal Black delegates demonstrates that the modern disenfranchisement is just more sophisticated.

Black Democrats can delude themselves that they've "already won" if they want to. Reality, however, has its own demands.

Additional Federal Judgeships Asked For

Senator Slade Gorton and Dan Evans have asked the Washington State Bar Association and the Federal Bar to review and evaluate candidates for four additional federal judgeships. One will be a new district court position in Eastern Washington, and two will be district court positions in Western Washington.

Ad additional position may be available for a Washingtonian on the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit, according to Gorton and Evans.

A committee to review and evaluate candidates has been appointed by the State Bar President.

the committee consists of John Heath and Robert Whaley, both of Spokane; H. H. Hayner of Walla Walla; David Welts of Mount Vernon; and Charles Burdell, Jr., Sheryl Willert, Bradley Jones and Ken Short of Seattle.

Short, chairman of the group, announced that anyone wishing to be considered for any of these appointments should notify the committee in writing c/o State Bar headquarters, no later than August 9, in order to permit the committee's work to be completed brfore the Congressional recess. The submission of resumes or other materials is welcomed by the committee, but is optional with the applicant.

All material should be sent to the Select Committee on federal Judical Appointments, c/o the Washington State Bar Association, 505 Madison Street, Seattle, WA 98104.

The committee will conduct interviews with qualified applicants during the latter half of August in both Eastern and Western Washington locations.

Arson Task Force

On July 17, 1984, four members of the Pierce County Arson Task Force were sworn in as Deputy U.S. Marshals by U.S. Marshal Eugene M. Corr.

The ceremony took place in Seattle. Deputized were Detectives Fred Reinicke and Edwin M. Isakson of the Pierce County Sheriff's Office, Detective Stanley D. Torgerson of the Tacoma Police Department, and Rick Halkunen of the Washington State Fire Marshal's Office in Olympia. Also present during the ceremony was Nolan Douglas, Special Agent in charge of the Seattle District Office, U.S. Treasury, Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms.

The purpose of this official act was to assist members of the Pierce County Arson Task Force in investigating and combating arson fires in Pierce County. The Task Force is a combined effort of Federal, State, County and City agencies. It was formed approximately two years ago in order to more thoroughly investigate arson fires and provide local law enforcement agencies with the technical investigate resources of the Federal Agency.

Bond Issue Package

A $12.5 million bond issue package focusing on rehabilitation of Tacoma's parks and correction of area park deficiencies will be placed on the ballot of the September 18 primary election.

In addition to approving the bond issue proposal 4-0, Park Board commissioners Catherine Egan, James Thomas, Howard Ashley and Peter Norman also voted unanimously at their Monday night meeting to place on the ballot a proposition to retain the Park District's regular property tax at its full legal limit of 75 cents per $1,000 of assessed valuation.

Commissioner Jerome Thorpe, unable to attend the meeting, conveyed his endorsement of the bond issue proposal in a letter to Neil Ofsthun, Executive Director of the Park District

INSTANT GAMES™

"7-11-21" Instant Ticket

The Washington State Lottery today announced a July 27 starting date for its "7-11-21" instant ticket game. The "Bonanza" game will end July 26.

Lottery Director Robert A. Boyd said $25 or $50 winning "Bonanza" ticket claims must be received at Lottery headquarters in Olympia or postmarked on or before August 9 to be eligible for entry into the grand prize selection process.

A grand prize drawing date and site has not yet been determined.

The grand prize of $1,000 a week for life will go to one of ten finalists selected during the final preliminary drawing in Olympia.

The "7-11-21" game goes on sale Friday July 27.

To play, the tree boxes in the left column of the ticket must have their latex covering scratched off to reveal three numbers. If the total of the three numbers is 7,11,or 21, the corresponding "prize" box will reveal the amount of instant cash winnings.

All claimed tickets winning $25 are automatic entries for the "7-11-21" grand prize drawing, scheduled to be held at the conclusion of the game.

According to Boyd, more than 21 million tickets have been sold since the "Bonanza" game began May 4. Bonanza is the Lottery's tenth instant ticket game.

Billings Is In The Running

Saying "it is time to bring new leadership and a fresh approach to Olympia," Steilacoom School Board Chairman Deborah Billings today announced she is running for the Washington State House of Representatives in the 28th Legislative District. The 28th District includes the suburbs of Lakewood, and University Place, as well as the towns of Fircrest and Steilacoom.

Billings has been a member of the Steilacoom School Board since 1980. "Providing our children with educational excellence is the paramount issue of our times," Billings said. "My experience as a school board member will be invaluable in the next legislature as together we seek new methods aimed at providing educational excellence.

Billings, who will run as a Democrat, admits that the race will be a tough one in the traditionally Republican 28th district. "Democrats have not always fared well in this district. However, judging from the encouragement I have received from Republicans, Independents, and Democrats throughout the district, I'm convinced the citizens are ready for a change," Billings said.

"To be perfectly honest, I'm sure the district has been served as well as it could have been had we sent legislators down to Olympia from both parties and not just one," Billings said. "I'm a firm believer in bipartisanship. No one party has the market cornered on solutions. Both parties need to contribute.

Billings said education, economic development and environmental quality would be among the issues she intends to focus on during the campaign. "There are many challenges ahead for our state. I do not shrink from those challenges -- I welcome them," said Billings.

Billings, 35, is married and the mother of two sons.
